Rottapharm Biotech srl
Library and Archives, Manager
Monza MB – Italy

I am currently, Head of the Library and Archives Dept. at Rottapharm Biotech – a research spin-off of Rottapharm S.p.A. I have been working in a Pharmaceutical Company since 1986, honored to contribute with my professional skills to support pre-clinical and clinical research in the development of new drugs for people's health and welfare. Since October 2020 I work to the new Library project of the Museo Etrusco founded by Fondazione Luigi Rovati.

My job role is focused in bibliographic searches: I build robust searches queries side by side with my researchers. I am also responsible for all library activities such as: subscriptions and collections acquisition and disposal; budget discussion and approval; good practice in research data retrieval and management. In every day working-life I am asked to:

- co-ordinate and implement information resources, including new acquisitions, interesting web-sites, facilities and instructions for obtaining bio-medical news.
- choose appropriate sources for questions asked and for enquirers' objectives in biomedical fields;
- use of all available resources (as appropriate) including Internet, print, on-line, phone for question-answering and maintaining up-dates in bio-medical information.
- administer Library policies and procedures and deal with the preparation and discussion of Library budget.

My degree is in Modern Arts (M.A.) with special interest and certifications in English and Spanish languages and literature. I have acquired specializations in librarianship and bibliometry science and modern books cataloguing.

Since 2001, I have been a member of GIDIF-RBM (Italian Group of Information Specialist from Pharmaceutical Company and Biomedical Research Institutes) and since 2008, I have been serving the association as treasurer in the executive board. My aim in GIDIF-RBM is to support colleagues in continuing education and professional development.

Since 2013, I have been serving as an EAHIL (European Association for Health Information and Library) Board member and recently I have been involved in supporting EAHIL's systems (Member Database and Mailing list system).
